Business & Commercial Litigation

Our commercial litigation practice covers the spectrum of business relationships. Treiser Collins represents a number of large corporations as well as small start up companies and individuals. We are proud to have served a core group of business client successfully for a number of years.

Because of the variety of litigation matters we have handled, we have extensive experience with the breadth of remedies that are sought in business cases. From lost profits to receiverships to injunctions to specific performance to an array of consequential damages claims, we are prepared to creatively and persuasively present and defend claims based on these theories.

In the cases we have tried, we have worked with a great many expert witnesses from numerous professional disciplines and are skilled at distilling sometimes complex business and transactional subject matters so that juries easily understand them.

Our commercial litigation practice covers:

- Business torts
- Breach of contracts
- Financial institution matters
- Insurance coverage
- Shareholder disputes
- Community Association
- Creditor's rights
- Commercial transactions
